On Spreading Ripples of Peace

Fix your mind inwardly between the eyebrows on the shoreless lake of peace. Watch the eternal circle of rippling peace around you. The more you watch intently, the more you will feel the wavelets of peace spreading from the eyebrows to the forehead, from the forehead to the heart, and on to every cell in your body. Now the waters of peace are overflowing the banks of your body and inundating the vast territory of your mind. The flood of peace flows over the boundaries of your mind and moves on in infinite directions

Three small illustrations of audio media are arranged vertically. From top to bottom: a vinyl record with a stylus needle, a cassette tape, and a CD. To the left of the vinyl record is a large upward-pointing arrow. To the right of the CD is a circular geometric logo consisting of a hexagon with internal lines forming a cube-like structure.

Figure 26. This is a diagrammatic sketch of the human outer, middle, and inner ear. The pinna (p) leads into the meatus (m). The drum (d) separates the outer from the middle ear. The three ossicles, hammer (h), anvil (a), and stirrup (s), lead to the oval window (o.w.). The middle-ear cavity is connected with the cavity of the mouth by the Eustachian tube (e.t.). In the inner-ear cavity lies the fluid-filled ear labyrinth (e.l.) with its appendage, the coiled cochlea (c). This is coiled up in a helical space filled with perilymph (p.s.). This space is divided by the cochlear duct into an upper and a lower gallery (u.g., l.g.) which communicate with one another through the helicotrema (he) at the tip of the cochlear duct. The lower gallery is separated from the middle-ear cavity by a membrane covering the round window (r.w.). The cochlear duct, like the ear labyrinth, is filled with endolymph (black).

In the World Game
'all sides can win'

You say you want a revolution
Well you know
we all want to change the world
You tell me that it's evolution
Well you know

We all want to change the world
But when you talk about destruction.

Don't you know that you can count me out
Don't you know it's gonna be alright

Alright

You say you got a real solution

Well you know
we'd all love to see the plan
You ask me for a contribution

Well you know

We're doing what we can

But when you want money for people with minds that hate
All I can tell you is brother you have to wait

Don't you know it's gonna be alright

Alright

You say you'll change the constitution

Well you know
we all want to change your head

You tell me it's the institution

Well you know

You better free your mind instead

But if you go carrying pictures of Chairman Mao

You ain't going to make it with anyone anyhow

Don't you know it's gonna be alright

Alright
